CONDITIONS GOVERNING ISSUANCE OF DRAFT

In case this remittance is not paid, the drawer's liability will be conditioned upon surrender of duly endorsed original and duplicates and limited to refunding to the holder the equivalent of the face amount by (a) payment in United States dollars at the drawer's buying rate in Los Angeles, at the time of such surrender and refund, for the foreign money in which drawn, or at the drawer's option by (b) forwarding by mail or otherwise, to the drawer or other banking house abroad with which it may then have or establish a sufficient credit in such foreign money instructions to withhold there from an amount equivalent to the face hereof for the account and risk of the holder hereof; and the drawer shall not be otherwise liable herein or for the consideration received here for. References to the foreign money in which this check is drawn shall mean such foreign money, or other foreign money into which it may then be convertible, impressed with restrictions and other characteristics which shall or would have attached to an un earmarked credit balance of the drawer's remaining with the drawee or such other banking house from the date hereof to the time of settlement. Such refund shall be reduced by any loss resulting from failure immediately to forward and promptly present this check (whether or not presentment would otherwise be dispensed with or delay excused) and refund may be withheld pending determination of such loss.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING ISSUANCE OF WIRE OR MAIL TRANSFER

The Bank agrees to send at the expense and risk of the customer a message directing payment of foreign funds in the amount and manner indicated. The Bank does not warrant that the transfer of funds will reach the payee. It may make use of any branch, or correspondent, agent or sub-agent and shall not be under any liability for any errors, negligence, suspension or default of any of them or for any failure to identify the payee or any mispayment by any of them, nor shall the Bank be under any liability for any errors, mutilations, delays, misdelivery in the transmission of any message in connection with this transaction, whether or not in code or whether by mail, postal service, telegraph, cable, wire, wireless, radio, or otherwise, or for any suspension of any such means of transmission or for any imposition of any censorship, exchange control or other restriction, all such risk being borne by the customer.

In case of a transfer of currency other than the currency of the country to which remittance is made, it shall be payable to the payee in currency of said country at the buying rate of the Bank's branch, or correspondent for exchange of the currency remitted unless the payee arranges with said correspondent for payment in some other form upon paying all charges in connection therewith. In case the funds are not paid to the payee, whatever the reason, any liability of the Bank will be conditioned upon its receipt from the branch or correspondent of confirmation of effective cancellation of the remittance abroad and shall be limited to refunding the amount to be remitted, less expenses, which refund, in the case of transactions relating to the remission of foreign money, shall be made by (a) payment in United States dollars of the Bank's buying rate in Los Angeles, at the time of such refunds, for the foreign money to be remitted or at the Bank's option by (b) forwarding by mail or otherwise to the Bank's branch or correspondent or other banking houses abroad with which it may then have or establish a sufficient credit in such foreign money instructions to withhold there from an amount equivalent to the amount to be remitted for the account and risk of the person to whom refund is to be made, and the Bank shall not be otherwise liable in connection herewith or for the consideration received by it. References to the foreign money to be remitted shall mean such foreign money into which it may then be convertible, impressed with restrictions and other characteristics which shall or would have attached to an earmarked credit balance of the Bank remaining with its correspondent or such other banking house from the date hereof to the time of settlement. Anything hereinbefore to the contrary notwithstanding any refund shall be made in case of mispayment of funds by any correspondent agent or sub-agent, and in case funds for the payment of this transfer have been remitted or made available abroad or otherwise covered, no refund shall be made until the relative funds have been returned or otherwise made freely available to the Bank.
